

Trusted Technical Expertise.

Columbia Analytical Services, Inc. is an employee-owned, full-service environmental analytical network with laboratories and service centers nationwide. Our areas of expertise and services include environmental analysis of water, solids, biological and air samples. We specialize in ultra-trace low-level analyses of seawater, sediment and tissue matrices. Our services are tailored to meet the individual needs of our clients by providing high quality, cost-effective, and timely analytical data.

Columbia Analytical has “Counter-to-Counter” shipping!

When counter-to-counter shipping is used, Columbia Analytical/Honolulu representatives ship samples directly to specific mainland airports where they are picked up by Columbia Analytical couriers and delivered to our laboratories within 12 hours from time of shipment. This shipping technique drastically reduces the chance for lost or delayed sample shipments.

Columbia Analytical can also provide courier service to pick up samples from your field site and/or your office. We will take care of shipping (and repacking if necessary) your samples to the mainland same day. For your added convenience, our Hawaii Service Center, stocks all sample containers, preservatives, coolers, etc. to use during the sampling process.

We will also work with customs and the USDA to clear foreign and DOD samples at the airport.
